Getting Started

Using a clicker or other behavioral marker can help your pet better understand what behaviors will earn reinforcement. Practicing the treat delivery skills on your own can help improve the speed at which your pet will be able to learn the new task.

Raise a paw for better behavior

I am here to support as you build a better relationship with you pets by teaching them new skills and addressing their antics that drive you crazy. I offer one on one attention to address your personal concerns and meet you where you are. In person consults are still being offered as well as virtual zoom meetings.
